Wanderin' Wengryn

■ "Where's Wengryn?" If we leave Steve out of our magazine for even one month we're sure to be swamped with demands for the reason why.

This Wengryn lad is pretty hard to pin down: in the first place he really gets around the country and when we do bump into him he doesn't want to talk about himself.

Evolution of a CHAMPION

■ Arthur Harris at Twenty-three is just about "Mr. Everything" except Mr. America. Were it not for the hanky-panky of certain self-perpetuating officials who keep their greedy little pinkies in this particular pie, Arthur would have won that title long ago.

Of all the modern physique stars, we have followed Artie's career with greatest interest and admiration, for in true Alger tradition he has triumphed over adversities that would have destroyed lesser men, to reach heights of physical magnitude never achieved by anyone.

In this vignette we are showing certain phases of his evolution from his first victory as Mr. New York State in 1953 to the win-

OF HAPPY MEMORY

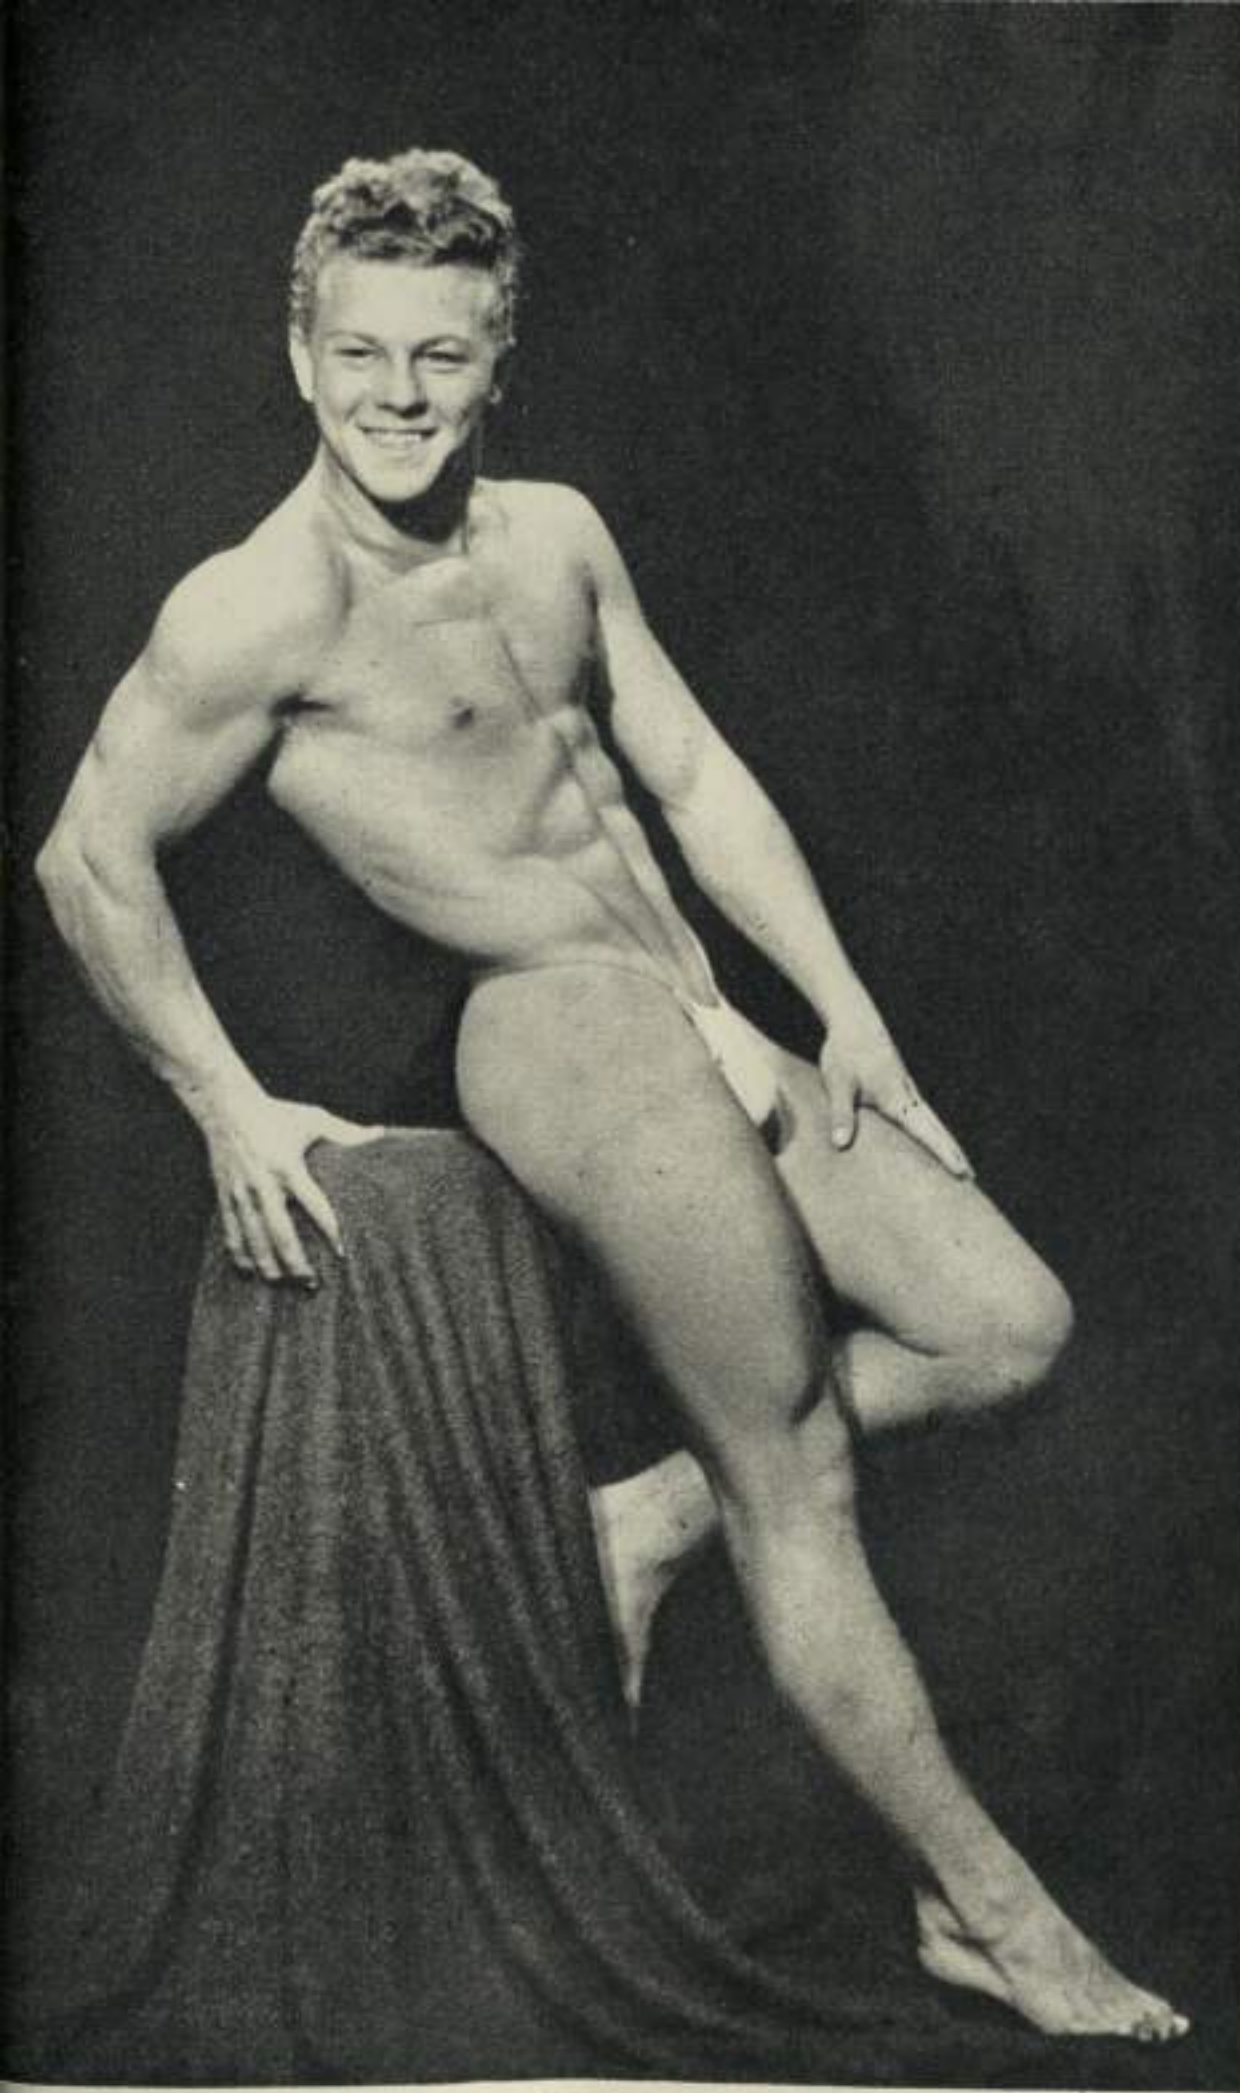

ONE day when the Sultan was in his palace at Damascus, a beautiful youth who was his favorite rushed into his presence, crying out in great agitation that he must fly at once to Baghdad, and imploring leave to borrow his Majesty's swiftest horse.

The Sultan asked why he was in such haste to go to Baghdad. "Because," the youth answered, "as I passed through your garden just now. Death was standing there, and when he saw me he stretched out his arms as if to threaten me, and I must lose no time in escaping from him."

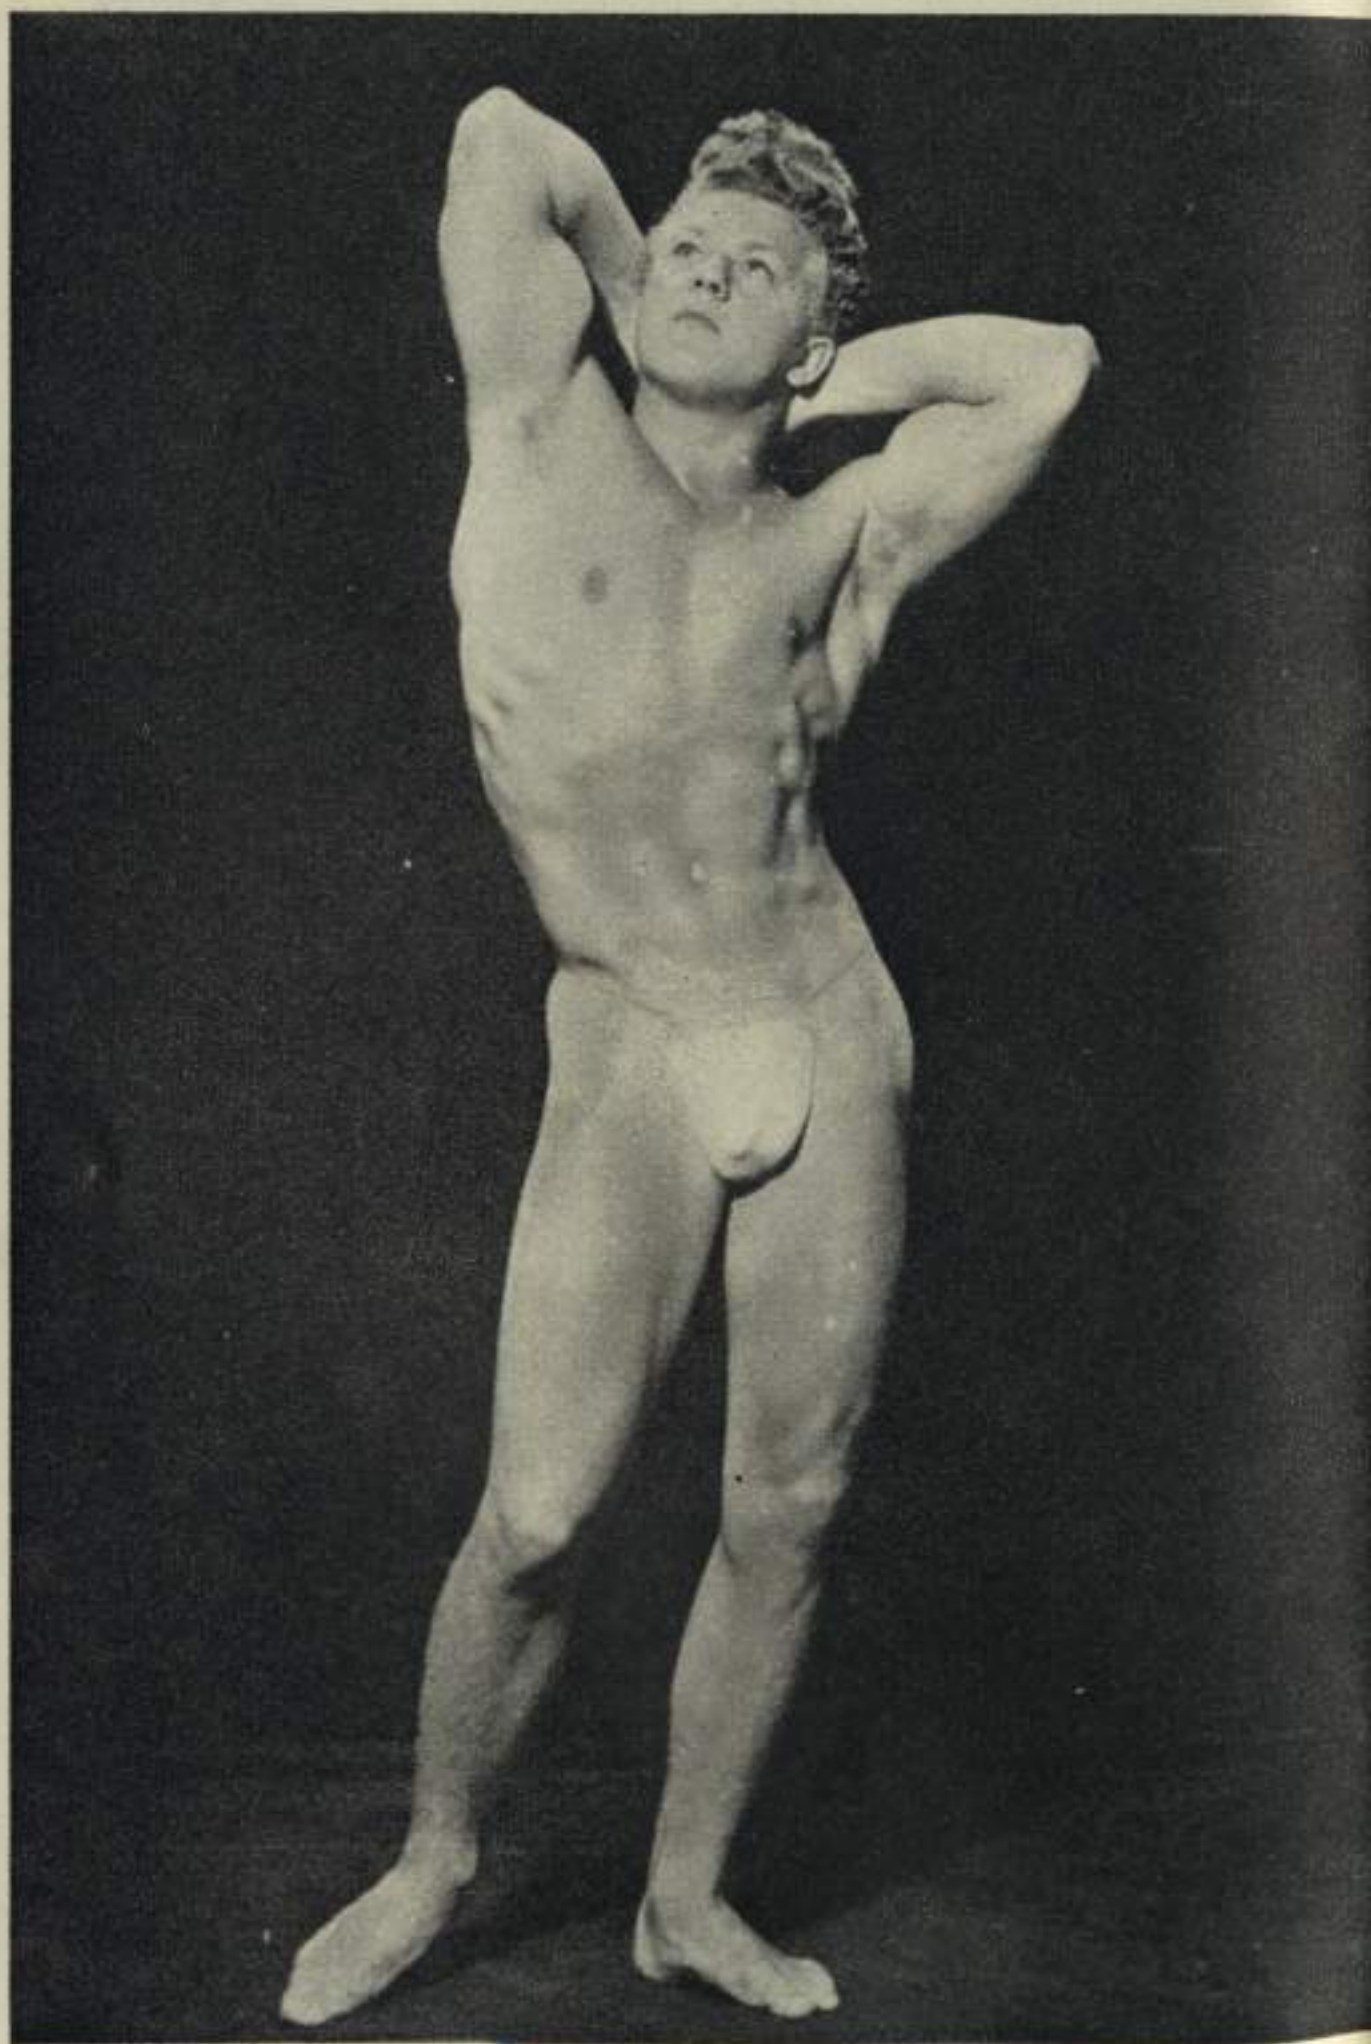

The young man was given leave to take the Sultan's horse and fly; and when he was gone the Sultan went down indignantly into the garden, and found Death still there. "How dare you make threatening gestures at my favorite?" he cried; but Death, astonished, answered: "I assure your Majesty I did not threaten him. I only threw up my arms in surprise at seeing him here, because I have a tryst with him tonight in Baghdad."

FELIX

■ Bruce seems to be going in for really rugged models these days. In Body Beautiful this month we have his John Manning and his other contribution is this series of photographs of young Johnny Felix.

Johnny is eighteen, 5' 7" and weighs 145. From these studies you'd think him to be much taller and far heavier, so muscular is he.

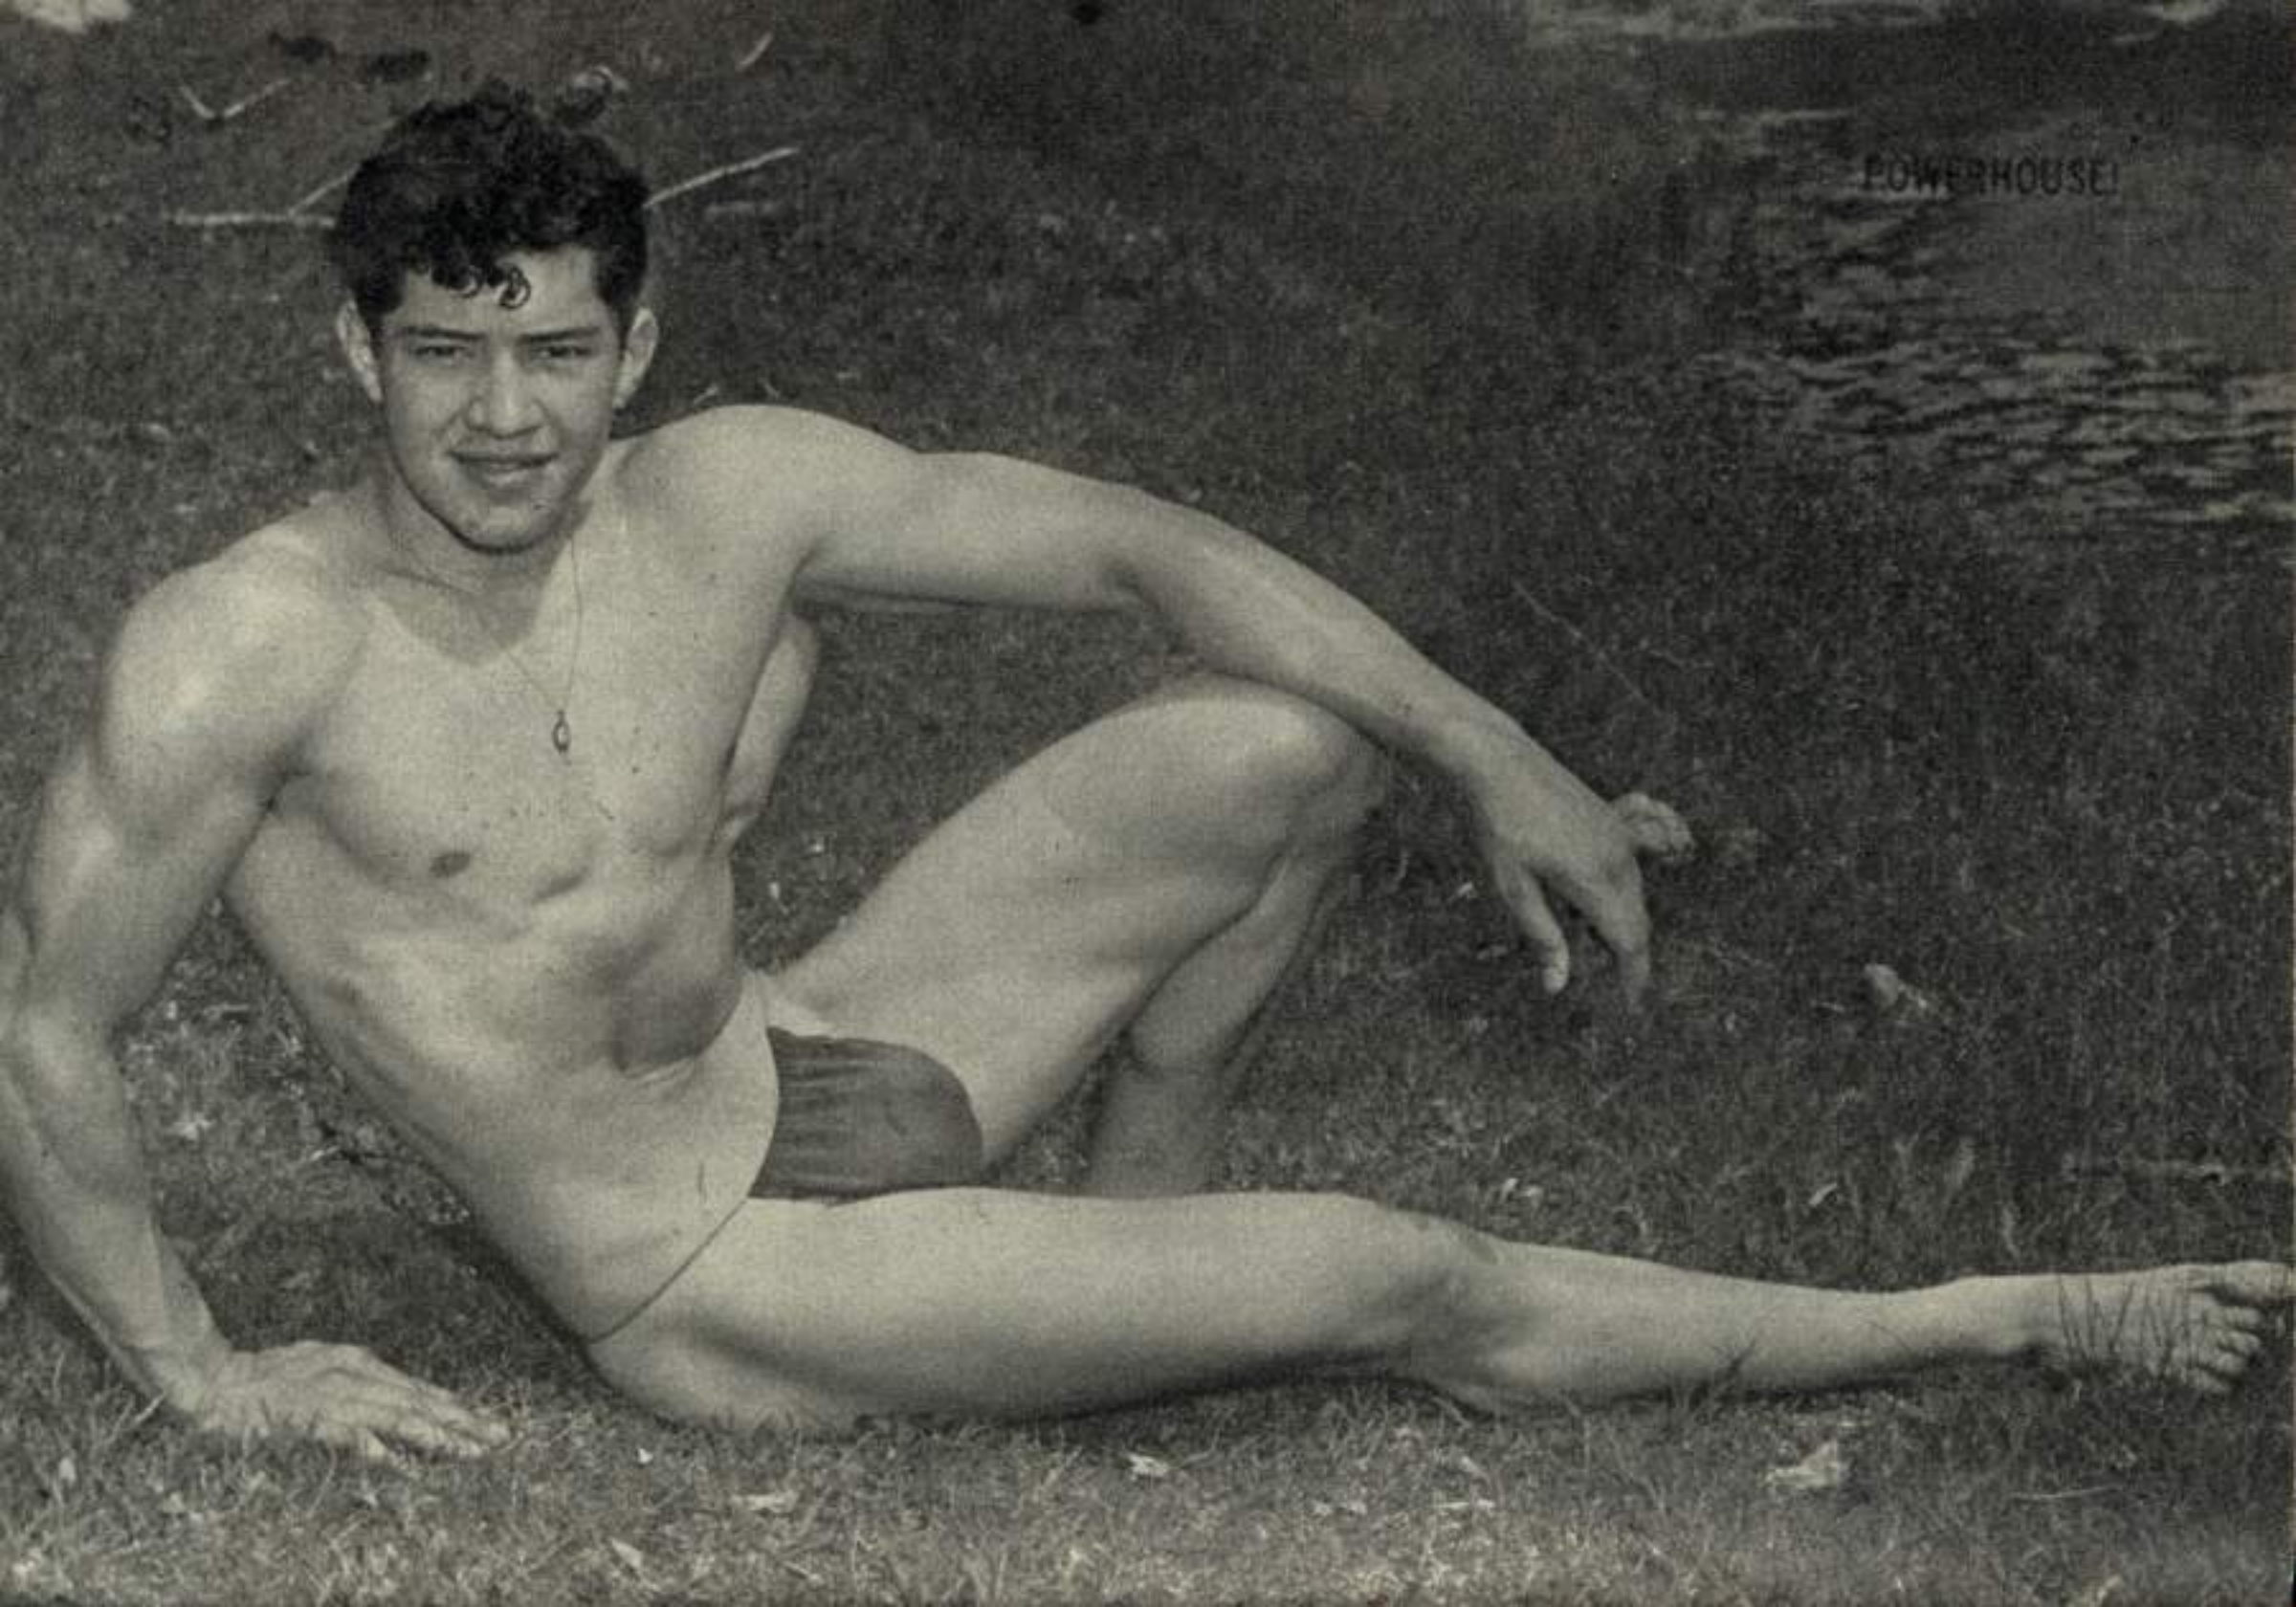

Of French-Spanish extraction, Johnny is an outstanding football player and excels in swimming and diving. For all his light weight he has just about the widest shoulders we've seen in a long time.

Welcome to Body Beautiful, Johnny.

Sunstruck

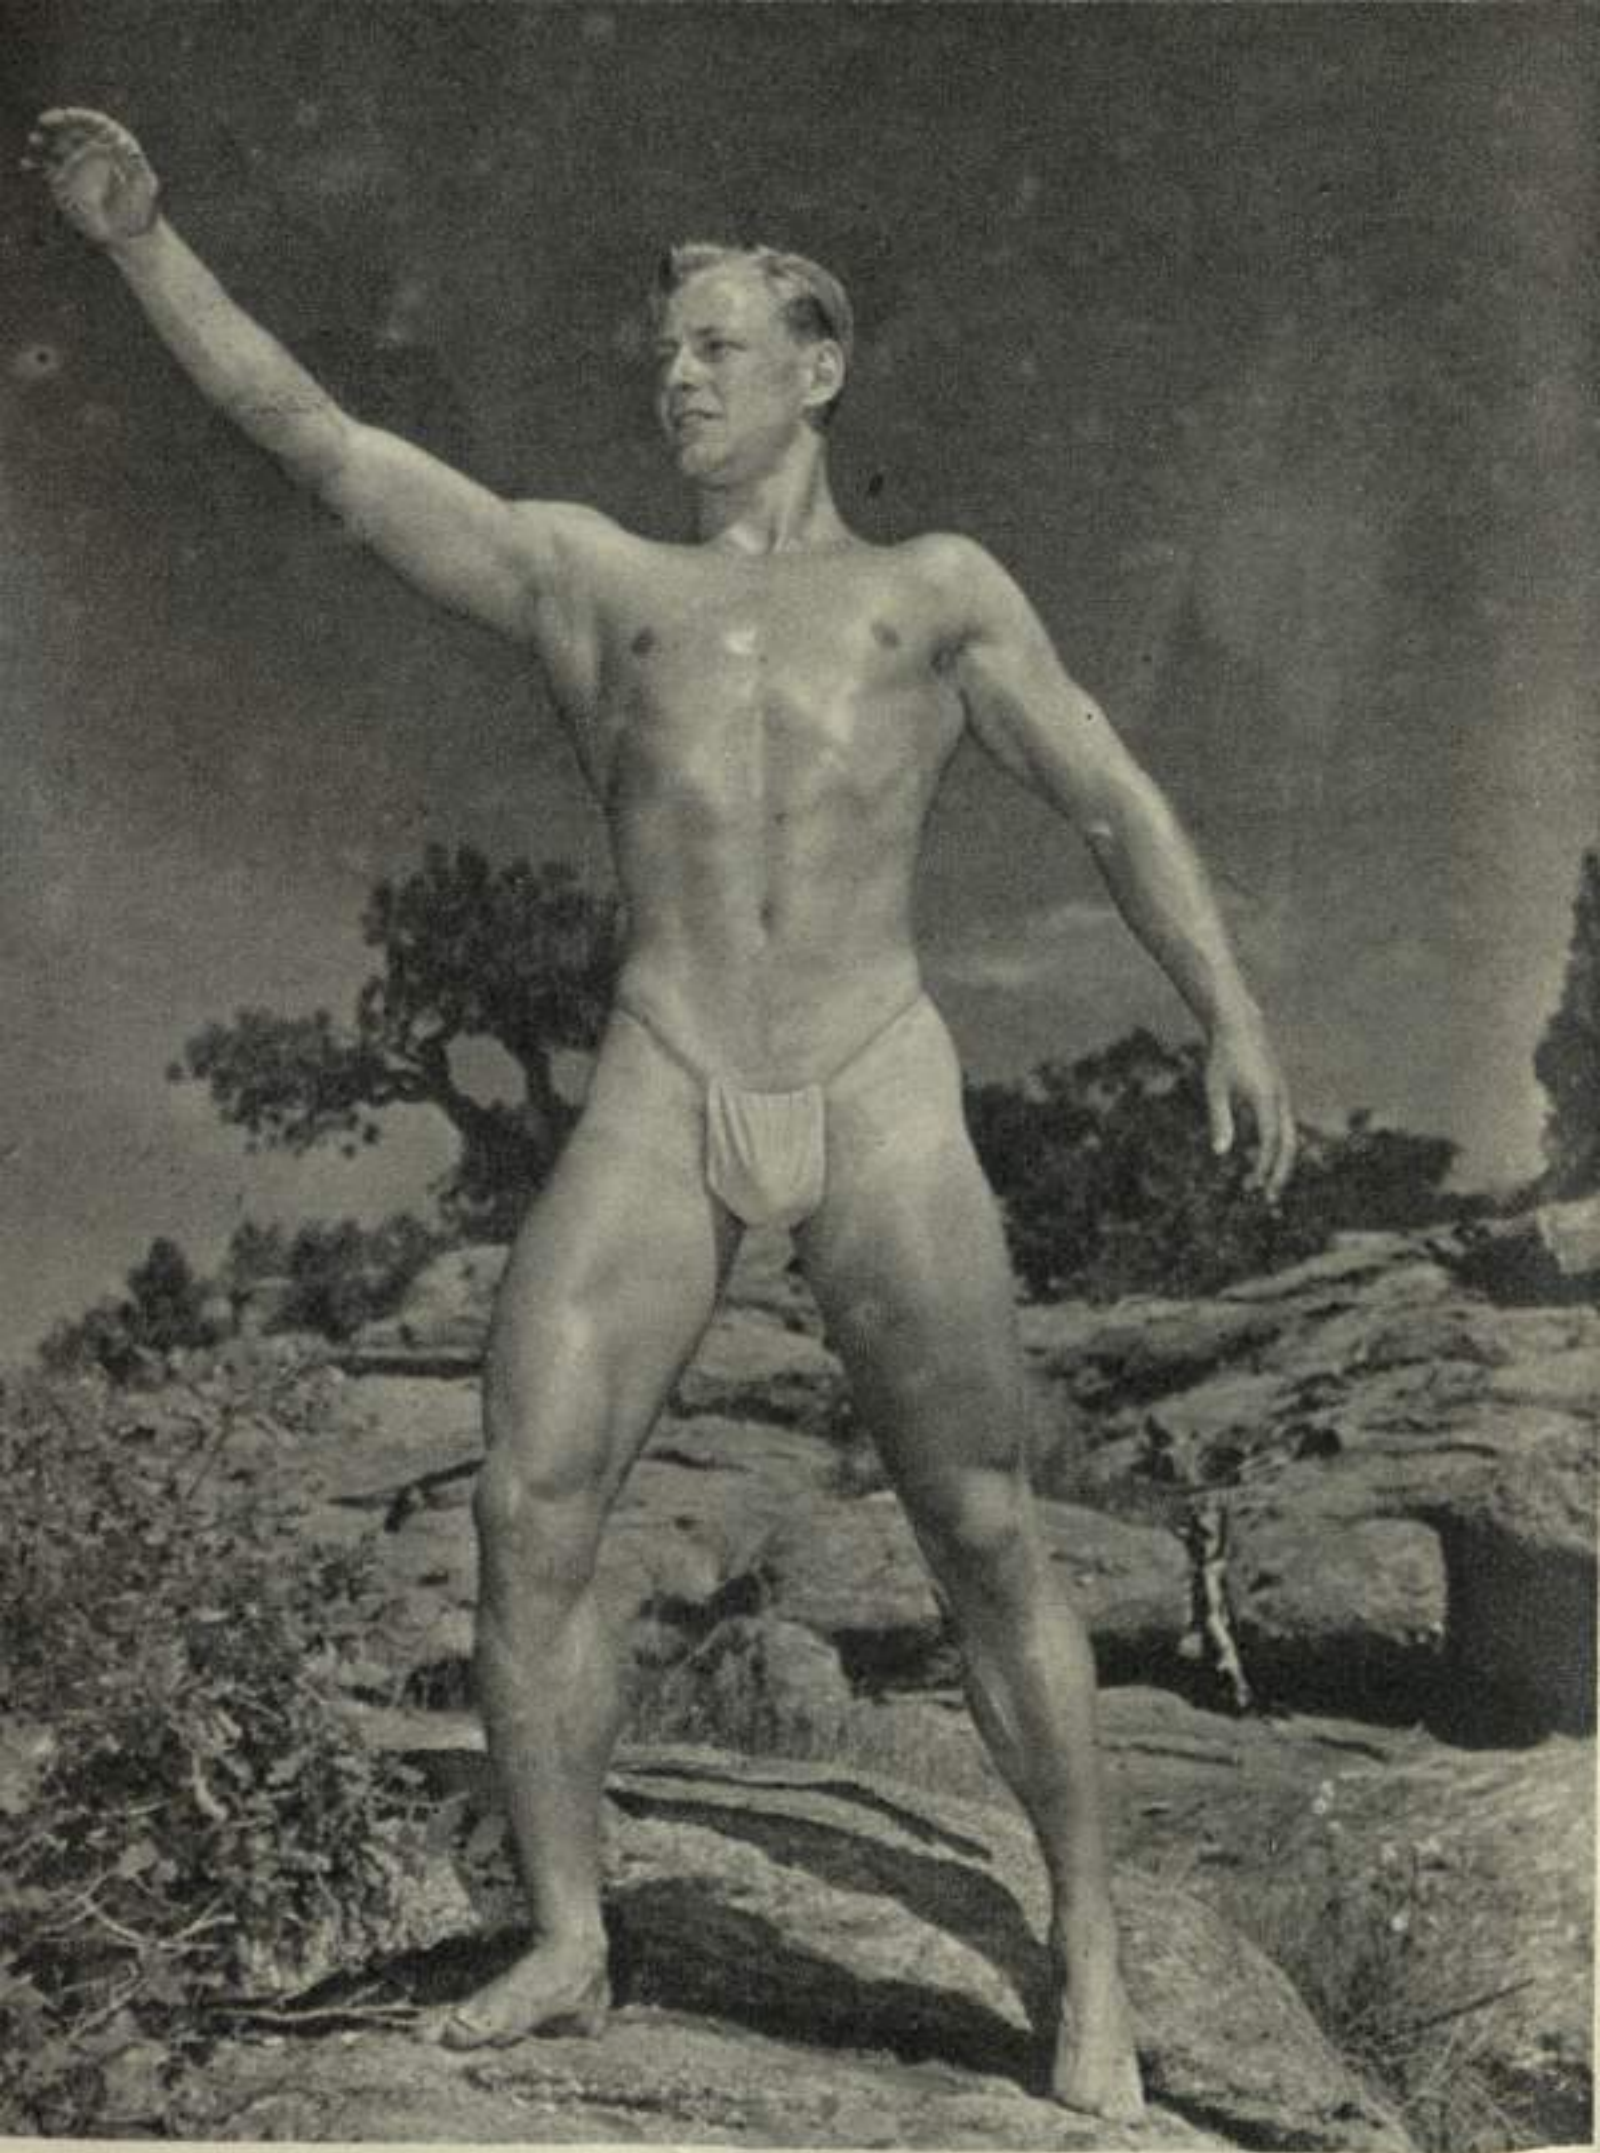

■ As if just living in these bleak midwinter temperatures were not enough to make you gnash your teeth, our gallery is comprised entirely of those lucky body-builders who live in the sun the year around.

Western Photography Guild sends us two of its sunniest models—Keith Wegeman, the Colorado skiing champion who made his debut here last month; and a newcomer who bears the unlikely name of Greedy—Alan, that is. A photographer new to these pages is Male Today, P.O. Box 9, New York 4. (Continued on page 52)

■ So prolific their output and so excellent is the quality of both their models and photography that we actually suffer from an embarrassment of riches whenever we receive a parcel of pictures from Western Photography Guild. It's always difficult to choose one particular group as being their best representation of that month.

But when we were preparing this issue we looked no deeper than the topmost picture in their parcel — this model was it! Upon reading the brief story of Mark Nixon we were amazed that anyone could have crowded so much into nineteen short years.

■ "The dance is life!" So said Havelock Ellis — and truly it is to young Don Martin who has devoted almost every waking moment to it since childhood.

Don is a member of New York's famed Metropolitan Opera ballet, a position that many aspire to but few achieve. Opera ballet makes quite different demands upon the performer than the story or abstract ballets one usually sees. Embracing every school and period of operatic history it requires techniques long forgotten and those which are as new as tomorrow. The danseur must be a man of many-faceted talents.

In introducing Don Martin to you this month, we also introduce a new contributing photographer — Adam. We are very pleased that he has caught Don in such a variety of attitudes — some dramatic, some contemplative, some lyric — but withal representative of the brilliant talents of these fine artists.

■ John Palatinus is one photographer who likes to keep to a central theme when working with his models. A particular mood, or scene or costume is used in a variety of ways until the model gives full expression of himself. In these photographs you'll note that Tommy Lentych, having an amazingly muscular physique is posed to bring out every sharply-defined striation of his muscles. Simple, beautiful studies result. HERE'S LOOKING AT YOU!

However, through the courtesy of our good friend Delmonteque we are very pleased to have this expressive colour cover print of Lucky—one of the really beautiful transparencies from this excellent photographer. Perhaps if enough of you would write Lucky in care of Bob Delmonteque he would be encouraged to have more pictures made in which case we'll be happy to give him an honour feature inside the magazine.

Our front cover belongs to sensational Steve Wengryn, the amazing new muscle star of last year. Both the colour cover and the black-and-white print shown here are by Bob Delmonteque.

An inch or two to your left you'll find another photograph from the studios of John Ryan a newcomer to the physique photography field who is already becoming very popular with publishers all over the country. His picture is of Maurice Cyr, a young body-builder from Montreal and who shows splendid promise.

In a repeat appearance here's Tristan Rohr, the handsome young model who caused such a furor in previous issues. Again the photographer is Vulcan.

just before leaving on a European vacation (Steve's the most "vacationed" man we know; he had only just returned from a California holiday), and told us something of his plans. Also, he gave us lots of new photographs, some of which we show you here.

After his graduation from Bordentown Military Academy this year, Steve went to the West Coast for some screen tests. While there he was photographed by many of the leading camera artists — getting a wonderful golden tan all the while.

Earlier in the year he was featured in Muscle Power, demonstrating the unusual exer-

Along the way, Artie has annexed first prizes in the Mr. Strength and Health; Mr. Suburban; Mr. Rockaway; Mr. Bronx Union; Mr. Atlantic Coast and Mr. Gotham contests.

At this writing Arthur Harris stands 5' 10", weighs 190

At present he has TV coming up in Movieville plus maybe films, but in the meantime he enjoys himself hugely in fabulous, frenetic California.

One evening early Ray Anderson and a friend were driving home when suddenly their automobile went out of control and crashed into one of the great bridges which span New York's East River.

Ray was so seriously injured that for a time his life was despaired of. At best it seemed certain that one of his leg would have to be amputated. Yet through sheer determination that he would live—that he would be whole again, he refused amputation and daily fought a battle against death. Finally, after several months in hospital he was released and set about getting back in shape.

All went well — day by day new strength returned. Each day he did just a bit more exercise; then, in the height of summer he went for a swim. As he was strolling happily along the beach, Ray Anderson fell dead from a blood clot in his brain.

He, who was the favorite of everyone, had fled death at the front door only to meet him coming in the rear.
